

Echoes of Heritage: Bridging Memory, Communities, and Cultural Innovation Across Europe

Call for Partners

Call for action

We are developing a Horizon Europe proposal focused on the preservation, conservation, and adaptive reuse of Europe's Jewish cultural heritage. The project will map and document Jewish heritage sites, narratives, and traditions across Europe, while promoting intergenerational engagement, community inclusion, and policy relevance.

By taking a pan-European approach, the project will connect and scale up local and regional initiatives, using digital tools, community research, and creative methodologies to ensure that Jewish heritage is not only preserved but also reactivated and made accessible for future generations.

Expected Outcomes

1. Strengthened dialogue between researchers, communities, and public authorities
2. A digital and interactive platform mapping Jewish heritage across Europe
3. Preservation strategies for neglected or contested heritage sites
4. Educational tools, storytelling formats, and cultural tourism pathways
5. Policy recommendations for inclusive and sustainable heritage governance

We welcome collaboration from

- Academic Institutions & Research Centres (heritage, history, anthropology, digital humanities)
- Local Authorities & Municipalities (urban heritage, planning, tourism)
- Jewish Heritage Organizations (museums, archives, community centers)
- Creative and Cultural Sector Actors (artists, curators, storytellers, educators)
- Technology Providers (GIS, AI, digital mapping, VR/AR for heritage)
- Community-Based NGOs working in intercultural dialogue and heritage revitalization
